Volunteer Opportunities

Galaxy Digital
https://sammamish.galaxydigital.com
Galaxy Digital is a mobile-friendly volunteer management software for organizations of all sizes. It’s the single best tool for promoting, managing, engaging and reporting an organization’s volunteerism and community impact. Our goal for the software is to provide a one-stop shop for the public to find volunteer opportunities throughout the community and give a platform for organizations to recruit, post events and track hours for their organizations.

Give back to your community and volunteer with the City of Sammamish!
Every month, the City offers several opportunities to get involved. Help-out at City special events or get your hands dirty working in a park pulling weeds or building trails. Check out our Volunteer Page under the Community Involvement tab on our City website for upcoming opportunities.

New Plant Stewardship Training Offered!
This fall, the City of Sammamish, the Washington Native Plant Society, and the Sammamish Plateau Water are bringing the Master Native Plant Stewardship Program to Sammamish! Participants will receive 100-hours of free classroom and field training, and then commit to work for at least one year on a forest restoration project. For more information and to apply, go to wnps.org/become-a-steward. Classes start in early September, so apply now!

Plant Stewards
Our Plant Stewards go through the Washington Native Plant Society’s Native Plant Stewardship Program, where they learn about Puget Sound ecology, restoration, urban forestry and are trained in native plant identification and invasive plant management. Stewards then volunteer their time on restoration projects in our parks. Plant Stewards developed a native plant garden in Lower Commons Park, worked on wetland restoration at Illahee Trail, and are currently working in Ebright Creek Park leading volunteer events to maintain their restoration project along Ebright Creek. Join us to learn about native plants and restoration.

Stormwater Stewards
The Stormwater Stewards work to enhance Sammamish stormwater ponds by planting native plants and creating wildlife habitat for urban wildlife and pollinators in and around our stormwater ponds. Come out and help beautify and create habitat in our stormwater ponds!

Trail Stewards
After training with Washington Trails Association, Trail Stewards volunteer their time building trails and leading volunteer projects for the City. Trail Stewards have helped build trails and trail structures in Evans Creek Preserve, Big Rock Park, Beaver Lake Preserve, and Soaring Eagle Park. Keep an eye on our Volunteer Page for opportunities to help Trail Stewards with trail projects.

Adopt-A-Road
We have more than 30 organizations that have adopted roads in our community! These groups pick up litter along our streets, helping to keep our streets clean and improve the environment. All streets are currently adopted, but groups can add themselves to our Adopt-A-Road waitlist on our City website, under the Community Involvement tab.

Get Involved!
As an Individual: Check out upcoming projects or sign up for e-mail alerts on our Volunteer Page at www.sammamish.galaxydigital.com.
As a Group: If your group or organization would like to volunteer, please contact volunteer@sammamish.us or call 425-295-0556 to set up a group volunteer opportunity.

Beaton Park

In fall 2018, the City purchased nine acres of land at the northeast corner of 218th Avenue SE and SE 8th St to be known as Beaton Hill Park. The property was previously owned by the Beaton family who lived there for over 75 years. The family utilized the property as farmland and raised animals including cows, pigs, rabbits, and geese (just to name a few). Today, the site provides flat, open areas as well as forested areas with mature evergreens. The Beaton’s sold their property to the City for future use as a park to ensure the character of the land will be preserved and provide irreplaceable green space for Sammamish.

Over the summer, the City completed routine maintenance on the property, in addition to demolishing the small home and accessory structures, which were in a state of disrepair. There are no other planning efforts or improvements budgeted for at this time. When funds are allocated for this park in the future, the first step will be to complete a master plan to understand how this park will fit in to Sammamish’s overall park system.

Stay tuned for more updates on the progress of this new park property by visiting: www.sammamish.us/parks-recreation/park-improvement-projects/beaton-hill-park

Klahanie Master Plan

The master plan process for Klahanie Park is now underway and we want to hear from you. The City began this effort in winter 2019 and will be completing the final round of public outreach in fall 2019 when we seek input on a preferred master plan. A master plan is a conceptual design that is used as a guiding document for implementing future improvements at a park. It is a multi-step process that receives input and direction from the public, Parks & Recreation Commission, and City Council. Parks & Recreation staff will present this plan on the following dates at City Hall:

- October 10 — Public Workshop
- November 6 — Parks & Recreation Commission Meeting
- December 3 — City Council Meeting

Klahannie Park was transferred to the City in January 2016 as part of the Klahanie annexation. Current amenities found at this park include trails, a small play area, natural grass sports fields, parking, and restrooms. The park also hosts annual recreation events, such as Shakespeare in the Park and KidsFirst. A master plan will be the City’s first attempt to look at potential improvements to this park comprehensively through a process that provides involvement of the entire community. It will also enable the City to consider how a previous County park will best incorporate into Sammamish’s park system.

The City of Sammamish aims to ensure that all its residents can receive needed human services. To do that, Sammamish uses some of its local tax money to fund specific programs, all of them are carefully selected through a competitive process. These city-supported programs offer services that are affordable (low cost, adjusted according to income, or free) and accessible. Programs typically receive support from the city for two calendar years. Every even numbered year the City accepts proposals from non-profit agencies seeking funding support in the next biennium budget.

Contact Rita Badh, Community Services Coordinator, at 425-295-0579 or rbadh@sammamish.us if you have any questions.
